

James Wilks Named New Chief Supports Officer

As part of the agency's ongoing realignment process, we are pleased to announce that James Wilks has been appointed the new Chief Supports Officer at Arkansas Support Network (ASN). In his new role, James will be responsible for the oversight of all direct services, leveraging his extensive experience to enhance our programs and supports offerings.

With three decades of experience dedicated to ASN's mission, vision, and values, James brings invaluable expertise that will be instrumental in guiding our services and supports. He will supervise the Supports Coordination, Supports Experience, and Solutions & Opportunities Supports departments, ensuring that our commitment to individualized home and community-based services remains at the forefront of our operations.

James' addition to ASN's executive leadership team marks a significant step in our realignment transition. Over the past year, we have evolved several strategic positions to strengthen our organizational structure. Notably, Lindsey Parker was appointed ASN's Chief Wellness Officer at the beginning of 2024. Harold Watts is moving into the role of Chief Business Officer, overseeing Finance, Compliance & Regulations, Contracts, Facilities, and Equipment. Tenille Hunter is transitioning into our Chief People Officer position, focusing on Human Resources, the Personnel department, Communications, and External Relationships. Additionally, Ginnie Trammell is taking on the role of Chief Revenue Officer, responsible for Billing, Plan Management, Accounts, Systems, and Applications.

These exciting and vital changes are crucial to ensuring the long-term sustainability of ASN's radical commitment to providing individualized home and community-based services. With this strengthened leadership team, we are confident in our ability to navigate the future and continue delivering exceptional support to our community.

We welcome James Wilks to his new position and look forward to the positive impact he will have on ASN and those we support. Thank you for your continued support and involvement in the ASN community.
